MESSAGE FROM THE CHAIRMAN OF 17TH ACCP 2017 INDONESIA

We hope we will make this a truly exciting journey of knowledge for all delegates. In view of the globalization and its challenges, we have put together scientific programmes covering current and pressing topics related to clinical pharmacy practice. With the conference theme "Unity in Diversity and the Standardisation of Clinical Pharmacy Services", the 17th ACCP will begin with pre-conference workshops on July 27. Please take advantage of workshops to advance your practical skills and in-depth insights to specialized knowledge. Furthermore, there will be more opportunities for the exchange of scientific ideas via keynote, plenary sessions, symposia, oral and poster presentations during the conference.

We anticipate all delegates can learn, share, and network with pharmacists from all over the countries, thus opening the opportunity for initiating staff or student exchange programs among the delegates. Furthermore, we invite all participants to join a Gala Dinner on July 29 at the Plataran Brahma, located next to Prambanan Temple and set against the majestic flood-lighted temple as the background. You can gather with others while watching the most wonderful Sendratari Ramayana performed by highly-skilled dancers on the open-air stage. It is an unforgettable and unique experience. At the end of the conference, delegates can join university and hospital visits on July 31.

While enjoying the rich features of various scientific programs, we hope you will take some time to enjoy our beautiful Indonesia. Do explore the traditional cultures and various colors found in famous street food-culture, wonderful shopping opportunities and friendly people. I wish you a delightful stay and hope that you take home the very best of memories from this conference.

WELCOME MESSAGES

MESSAGE FROM RECTOR, UNIVERSITAS AIRLANGGA

On behalf of Universitas Airlangga, I would like to extend my congratulations to all those involved in organizing and participating in the 17th Asian Conference on Clinical Pharmacy in Yogyakarta, Indonesia. It has been nine years since we hosted the 8th conference on 2008 in Surabaya. This year we are hosting the conference in collaboration with Indonesian Pharmacist Association and co-hosts including Universitas Gadjah Mada, Universitas Sanata Dharma, Universitas Ahmad Dahlan, Universitas Islam Indonesia, Universitas Muhammadiyah Yogyakarta.

This year is very special occasion. ACCP has been held for 20 years since the first conference in year 1997. This year theme "Unity in Diversity and the Standardisation of Clinical Pharmacy Services" provides a unique opportunity for researchers, policy makers, academics and practitioners to answer some of the challenges in the development of clinical pharmacy services and to outline new solutions for developing specific curriculum to support them.

Nowadays the borders between countries are becoming more and more transparent. The problems occurring in the society are more complex than those in the past. This is evident in the existence of this conference, and it is also clearly apparent in the collaboration that is already taking place among the Asian countries. I hope this event will promote excellence of clinical pharmacy practice, education, and research in all health care settings.

I wish you a successful conference and a wonderful Indonesia visit.

Thankyou

Prof. Dr. Moh. Nasih, SE, MT, Ak, CMA
Rector Universitas Airlangga
