Dear Sir,

The previous Andalas International Public Health Conference (AIPHC) in October 2017 has successfully attracted hundreds participants from all over the world. This year, the conference calls for international researchers, students, governments officers, practitioners, public and private committee to discuss, share and exchange their latest research and experience progress in relation with Sustainable Development Goals related to health, food and nutrition to the following topics:

1. The elaboration of health - literacy problem worldwide
2. Innovation in disease preventive intervention and health resources
3. Food accessibility as a key to fulfill the nutrition requirement in society

Based on these topics we invited you as invited speaker on the second topic which is "Innovation in disease preventive intervention and health resources". The conference will be held on:

Date : Tuesday – Friday, 8th – 11th October 2019

Time : 09.00 am – 16.00 pm WIB

Place : Pangeran Beach Hotel, Jl. Ir. H. Juanda No. 79, Padang – West Sumatera

We kindly appreciate if your travel to our conference is paid by sponsorship, while your accommodation in Padang, West Sumatera, will be our responsibility as committee.
